

EFPTA

European Federation of Psychology Teachers' Associations

THE VALUE OF TEACHING PSYCHOLOGY IN SCHOOLS: Panel discussion with international stakeholders

EFPTA WEBINAR - 6th MARCH 2025

Psychology is taught as a standalone subject in many European countries, however, its value for students' academic, professional, and personal lives is not widely acknowledged. The aim of EFPTA's webinar is to bring together stakeholders from different countries and institutions and discuss various opinions on the value of teaching psychology as a school subject for students under 19-year-old. We hope to initiate a step forward to fruitful interdisciplinary and international cooperation to foster high-quality teaching of psychology in schools around Europe.

6th March (Thursday) 2025 (16.30 UK, 17.30 CET)

Registration form: <https://forms.gle/iQDzwaoKqgymRS9F6>

Online - MS Teams

info@efpta.org

www.efpta.org

www.facebook.com/efpta

